WHY A PACIFIC LIFE VARIABLE ANNUITY

A variable annuity is a long-term contract between you and an insurance company that helps you grow, protect, and manage retirement savings in a tax-advantaged way. It can help you:

- Grow retirement savings faster through the power of tax deferral.
- Manage your investment strategy by transferring among a diverse selection of investment options free of tax consequences.
- Convert your assets to protected, lifetime retirement income.
- Leave a financial legacy through a protected beneficiary benefit.

Our variable annuities also offer features such as asset allocation and optional principal protection. Optional benefits are available for an additional cost.

Guarantees, including optional benefits, are subject to the issuing company's claims-paying ability and financial strength, and do not protect the value of the variable investment options, which are subject to market risk. The value of the variable investment options will fluctuate so that shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than the original cost. Annuity withdrawals and other distributions of taxable amounts, including death benefit payouts, will be subject to ordinary income tax. For nonqualified contracts, an additional 3.8% federal tax may apply on net investment income. If withdrawals and other distributions are taken prior to age 59½, an additional 10% federal income tax may apply. A withdrawal charge also may apply. Withdrawals will reduce the contract value and the value of the death benefits, and also may reduce the value of any optional benefits.

Insurance products can be issued in all states, except New York, by Pacific Life Insurance Company or Pacific Life & Annuity Company. In New York, insurance products are only issued by Pacific Life & Annuity Company. Product/material availability and features may vary by state.

DOWNSIDE PROTECTION. UNLIMITED GROWTH POTENTIAL.

When you invest for the long term, the equity investments in a variable annuity offer the opportunity for capital growth. However, the fear of market volatility can keep many investors on the sidelines.

Protected Investment Benefit, an optional accumulation benefit available for an additional cost, guarantees that at the end of five years, your contract value will equal at least 90% of your purchase payments made within the first year, adjusted for withdrawals. So, if markets are down, you are protected. If markets go up, you will benefit from the growth of your chosen investment options.

To elect Protected Investment Benefit, your contract must be allocated according to the investment allocation requirements the Company has in effect, which are subject to change. (See your financial professional and the prospectus for details.)

Develop a Long-Term Plan and Stay Invested

The key to investment success is simple: buy low and sell high. Yet, many investors do the opposite because they're driven by emotions. If you attempted to time the stock market during the past 20 years, you may have missed out on some of the best days. Those who stay invested tend to outperform those who frequently buy and sell as a reaction to market movements.¹ Adding Protected Investment Benefit to your annuity can help take some of the emotion out of investing because you know 90% of what you initially invested will be there for you at the end of five years, no matter how the market performs.

The Cost of Market Timing

HOW IT WORKS

Downside Protection

With Protected Investment Benefit, if the contract value is less than the protected amount at the end of your five-year period, Pacific Life will make up the difference. The protected amount is equal to 90% of your purchase payments made in the first year, adjusted for withdrawals.

Unlimited Growth Potential

With the purchase of a variable annuity from Pacific Life, you have the potential for market gains through the performance of your investment options. A variety of investment options are available, giving you the potential for higher growth opportunities.

During the five-year period, any withdrawals will reduce the protected amount proportionately. When the five-year period ends, the Protected Investment Benefit and the protection of purchase payments will automatically terminate. Purchase payments made after the first year are not part of the protected amount. Pacific Life reserves the right to limit additional purchase payments. Please speak with your financial professional before adding funds to the contract after the first contract anniversary.

A beneficiary benefit is referred to as a death benefit in the prospectus.

Protected Amount: Equal to 90% of your purchase payments made in the first year, adjusted for withdrawals.

These hypothetical illustrations do not reflect a specific actual investment. The example assumes no additional payments or withdrawals.

Additional Information

Your annual charge is set when your optional benefit is issued and will not change for the five-year duration of the optional benefit period. The annual charge is listed below.

Annual Percentage of the Charge Base (Deducted Quarterly) 1.00%

Charge is as of 7/3/23. The charge base is equal to your purchase payments made in the first year, minus an adjustment for withdrawals.

Under current law, a nonqualified annuity that is owned by an individual is generally entitled to tax deferral. IRAs and qualified plans—such as 401(k)s and 403(b)s—are already tax-deferred. Therefore, a deferred annuity should be used only to fund an IRA or qualified plan to benefit from the annuity's features other than tax deferral. These include lifetime income, death benefit options, and the ability to transfer among investment options without sales or withdrawal charges.

Protected Investment Benefit is named "Guaranteed Minimum Accumulation Benefit" in the contract rider.
