Initial caps and interest rates are set at contract issue and are guaranteed for one contract year. The initial caps and interest rates are based on the length of the Initial Option Period and the total of all purchase payments (minus withdrawals) received during the first contract year. After the first contract year, renewal caps and interest rates will be declared. Allowable advisory fee withdrawals¹ will not reduce the Index Term Value used to determine the Index-Linked Interest that may be credited at the end of the index term.

Additional purchase payments are permitted within the first 60 days of contract issue. Interest will be credited proportionally based on the index return from the time the additional purchase payment is received to the end of the index term. This period may be less than the time frames listed above.

¹Allowable advisory fee withdrawals are withdrawals to pay advisory fees that do not exceed an annual rate of 1.50% of the contract value during the calendar year. Withdrawals from the contract to pay advisory fees will reduce the contract value.

All guarantees are subject to the claims-paying ability and financial strength of the issuing insurance company.

Fixed indexed annuities are long-term contracts designed to protect your principal while providing growth opportunity based on the positive movement of an index in order to provide reliable monthly income during retirement. They are not securities and do not participate directly in the stock market or any index, so they are not investments. Pacific Life offers other fixed and fixed indexed annuities with similar features, optional benefits (available for an additional cost), and index linked options. Speak with your financial professional to determine if this product is right for you.
